20 more classy chalets for Mt Buller

● R. CORPORATION, the developer behind Metropol and East Melbourne's Tribeca (the 500-apartment redevelopment, with design guru Phillippe Starck, of the Victoria Brewery) has launched a lavish Mt Buller project.

The $15 million One Summit Road is on Mt Buller's highest residential plot.

The site will have 20 three-bedroom apartments, or chalets as they like to call them, designed by architect Charles Salter and with interiors by Hecker Phelan, which refurbished the Botanical Hotel at South Yarra.

The apartments will face north and have ski-in, ski-out access, heated balconies, ski rooms, drying rooms, open fireplaces, stone feature walls and timber finishes.

Mark Adams Real Estate and RT Edgar Alpine are selling the off-the-plan apartments at $625,000 and up.
